Ken practices in the construction litigation area which has been his focus since the late 1970's. He is the firm's senior construction litigator and Chairman of its Construction Department, and has represented owners, contractors, architects and engineers in a range of litigated matters from contract disputes to building failures and catastrophic, construction-related personal injury claims. The most significant sector of his practice has been civil construction and he has represented clients and served as arbitrator in bridge and roadway, airport and other civil projects in Florida, other U.S. jurisdictions and abroad. These projects have involved bridge and roadway claims in all seven numbered FDOT districts plus the Turnpike District as well as claims on TxDOT and NCDOT roadways. Airport claims he has handled have arisen from projects involving expansion of the Jacksonville, Ft. Lauderdale-Hollywood, Tampa, Pensacola, Asheville, NC, Raleigh-Durham, NC and Springfield, MO airports.
