

W. ROY ADAMS, JR.
2605 BERRYVINE PLACE, VALRICO, FLORIDA 33594
813-684-9265 or 813-689-9331

POSITION

Mr. Adams is presently the owner of his own consulting business, furnishing consulting services to sureties, insurance companies, financial institutions, law firms, contractors and owners. He has more than twenty years experience in this field plus another seventeen years experience as a contractor.

QUALIFICATIONS

Education

Bachelor of Civil Engineering
University of Florida

Professional

- Member American Institute of Constructors
- Member American Society of Civil Engineering
- Certified Professional Constructor
- Certified Class A Contractor, Florida

RELEVANT EXPERIENCE

As a consultant Mr. Adams has provided services to more than 50 surety companies, contractors and owners. Those services include initial and interim reports of construction, project evaluation, re-letting of contracts, managing project completion, monitoring funding of contractors, litigation support and expert witness testimony. These services have been provided throughout the United States and Puerto Rico. Mr. Adams has spoken on numerous occasions concerning construction and surety claims. Consulting service engagements include:

- Negotiated and equitably resolved claims involving various Departments of Transportation
- Completed four road and one bridge project for NYC Department of Transportation
- Oversaw completion of road projects for Seminole and Orange Counties
- Negotiated and equitably resolved claims with New York Transit Authority
- Involved in the completion of numerous road and bridge for GDOT
- Oversaw completion of six bridges in the FDOT Keys bridge replacement program
- Service on Disputes Review Board for FDOT

As a Contractor, Mr. Adams worked as an estimator, field engineer, project coordinator, project manager, general manager, corporate secretary, president. He has experience in construction management, design-build, fast track, and turnkey construction. Developed project cost control systems along with project manuals for project coordinators, manager, and superintendents. Mr. Adams has managed all facets of the business: personnel, accounting, estimating, construction and sales.