

I found that if I use the settings shown below I get good results. Unfortunately this means you have to select the paper source each time you open a PDF for printing. It also has an issue when duplexing. When duplexing the reverse side of each page is upside down. It is set for top\bottom binding instead of left/right binding.

