All the Standard Maintenance Specification Provisions were removed and are now incorporated into the main Specifications website along with other "Applicable" Maintenance Specifications, Standard Specifications, Specification Workbooks and any Mandatory Specifications.	1/6/15
The average cost per SF was increased to $8.50 due to new sheeting requirements. However, the process for using the "Average SF Cost of Sign Panels" is now obsolete for most AM contracts. This number was intended to convert a free allotment of SF of sign panels into a dollar amount because the	1/6/15 sign tracking software didn't track SF. Now, there is no free allotment of signs allowed on a majority of AM contracts.

We realized that Divisions II and III were not expressly mentioned in the document list so the Specification section was slightly modified for further clarity and accuracy. The first link was revised to the most recent Division I spec and is only used for a few contracts that does not have D-I hardcoded in attachment II. The second link applies to all contracts and references applicable Divisions II and III of the Standard specs (including revisions). The last link references applicable Divisions II and III of the Maintenance Specs.	2/25/15
