Q: Are legacy files 2d or 3d?

A: Communicate with your Designer. If the Designer is using corridor modeler to do 3D Design and the designer still asks for legacy files, make them 3D. If the designer pulls say a sidewalk out of the TOPORD.dgn and wants to add a sub-base, what would be the point of the sidewalk being 2D? If the Designer is doing criteria based design, not 3D modeling, then technically it would not matter if the file was 3D or 2D. However, designers may not know this and may insist on a 2D file because they are comfortable with a 2D file. Communication between the Surveyor and the Designer is critical while FDOT transitions from Criteria Design to 3D Modeling.
