

Bid Questions & Answers 1

Will a building permit be needed for this project?

The nature of the structural work is sufficiently complex as to warrant a Building Permit in addition to an Electrical Permit.

Does the Prime Contractor need to have a General Contractor's License?

The Bidder and/or sub-contractor must have the applicable State of Florida licenses to pull the required permits. The General Contractor can be either the prime contractor or the sub-contractor.