509 Websites

Websites are an effective method of communication that can provide a central, consistent source of updates on the project. Websites are also useful for keeping track of public interest in the project through website tracking analysis tools. Web surveys and polls can be conducted through the project website at critical milestones to efficiently gauge public opinion during the decision-making process. Websites can provide ways to sign up for an email list, submit a comment, or request a presentation. Depending on the complexity of the project, a project website may not be required. For projects that do not have a website, posting information about the project and public meetings on websites of partner agencies or affected municipalities can be an effective means of notification. FDOT requires the use of the Department's template for project websites.

More information about these requirements can be found at http://www.fdot.gov/it/consultantsites.shtm.
