A question ..

Will this be representative of the delineators on the IPL? Also, there are other heights of tubular delineators other than 36". Finally, there are delineators on traffic separators.

The APL approved manufacturers of these devices will need to be notified of the change. My office will handle the notification when the specification goes out for Industry Review. Other than that, I do not anticipate any effects to the APL or Product Evaluation. Thank you for the opportunity to review.
