Strike the words, "to prevent shading and scour impacts." You just need to tell the Contractor what to do, not why.

It is very common that seagrass beds will occur near or within the project, but the bridge sheets often do not provide enough coverage to map the seagrass beds. This is especially true for bridge rehab projects that are not part of a larger roadway project. My comment is to delete the sentence that reads "The approximate location of the seagrass beds is provided in the Plans."
