Any remaining amount will be paid at Final Acceptance. upon completion of all work on the Contract.

Question: What if the Contract includes a 2 year landscape maintenance period? When will all work on the Contract be completed.

Response:

we accept Art's change to "at final acceptance." This language is more definitive and follows our current practice.

As far as his question: we would have paid the contractor at final acceptance, so all the work would have been considered complete at that time.
