Underdrains calls out the index numbers when stating “in accordance with ...Standard Plans”, but this is not consistent throughout. For example, the added skimmer language, 4250300, does not do this.

Response: There are cases where the Specification needs to reference to specific Standard Plan. In other cases, the reference needs to be more general as the use may apply to a broader use. The reference in this specification is specifically for underdrain functions which are covered in Standard Plans Indexes 440-001 and 440-002. The use of Skimmers as referenced in Specification 425-3, is meant to be applied in a more broad application.
