His name was Jeremy.

Jeremy Fletcher knew that knowledge could transform communities. A lifelong student and teacher, Jeremy was a land surveyor who worked for FDOT and mentored fledgling engineers on weekends. In June 2022, when Jeremy was killed in a head-on collision on Blountstown Highway, Bristol lost a transportation leader to the very roads he worked to make safer. Jeremy's family lost a son, father, husband, and cousin. They have established a scholarship for engineering students in his name, keeping Jeremy's passion for learning alive.
