Comments:

Does this mean that we do not receive a list of materials in the form of a job guide schedule? Also, are we no longer receiving material certifications prior to installation?

A few sub-articles of Section 006 have been deleted and moved to Section 105. I recommend that the related Sections of the Materials Manual and other Sections of the Specifications that reference the deleted sub-articles of Section 006 should be changed to reference Section 105.

Comments:

1-Question - Article 6-2 Designation of a Specific Product as a Criterion ("Or Equal" Clause) - Why is this being removed from the Standard Specifications? It can help minimize construction project delays if a proprietary product manufacturer goes out of business, etc.

2-Comment - Subarticle 6-4.3 Worksheets -Department personnel need access to worksheets from all entities performing testing on materials. Moving this wording to Section 105 seems to eliminate the worksheet requirement for Verification testing entities. Having access to worksheets has helped insure data integrity for all testing entities involved in the Department's materials acceptance program.
