2016 World's Busiest Cruise Ports

Source data: Cruise Industry News

- Port of New Orleans, New Orleans, Louisiana: 2 million passengers
- Naples, Italy: 1.3 million passengers
- Sydney, Australia: 1.3 million passengers
- Marseille, France: 1.5 million passengers
- Port of Venice, Venice, Italy: 1.6 million passengers
- Jamaica (multiple ports): 1.6 million passengers
- St. Marteen, Caribbean (Netherlands): 1.6 million passengers
- Port of Southampton, Hampshire, England: 1.7 million passengers
- Grand Cayman, Cayman Islands: 1.7 million passengers
- Port of Galveston, Galveston, Texas: 1.7 million passengers
- U.S. Virgin Islands (multiple ports): 1.7 million passengers
- Balearic Islands (multiple ports), Balearic Islands, Spain: 1.9 million passengers
- Canary Islands (multiple ports), Canary Islands (Spain): 1.9 million passengers
- Nassau, Bahamas: 2 million passengers
- Civitavecchia Port, Rome, Italy: 2.3 million passengers
- Port Barcelona, Barcelona, Spain: 2.6 million passengers
- Shanghai Int’l Port, Shanghai, China: 2.8 million passengers
- Puerta Maya, Cozumel, Mexico: 3.6 million passengers
- Port Everglades, Ft. Lauderdale, Florida: 3.7 million passengers
- Port Canaveral, Cape Canaveral, Florida: 3.9 million passengers
- Port Miami, Miami, Florida: 4.8 million passengers

Number of passengers (in millions):
- 5.0 - 3.5
- 3.4 - 2.0
- 1.9 - 1.0

TRANSPORTATION DATA & ANALYTICS OFFICE