There will be exceptions, but those must be approved by the Target Zero branding team. The FDOT logo should appear on the left and can be used as one color for better aesthetics.

Horizontal Scenario (preferred)

The example provided shows a letter size document with a typical newsletter placement. Other examples might include postcards, information flyers, briefing documents, report covers, presentations, etc.

Vertical Scenario

If the space provided dictates placing the logos vertically, the FDOT logo is placed on top of the Target Zero logo.

Examples of vertical treatments include logos on event signage and other small areas like promo items. The horizontal position is preferred.

TARGET ZERO LOGO USAGE - HEADERS

Do NOT use the Target Zero logo in headers

The Target Zero logo is NOT to be used as a standalone header element in any document, presentation, or other asset. In marketing, the 'what' is more important than the 'who' because of the audience's short attention span. When creating any materials with a header, please spell out the full title in the header using text ONLY - ie., Target Zero Resource Guide.

DO NOT use the logo as a standalone header element.

DO spell out Target Zero when used in a headline.

Header text should be Arial font, per the brand guidelines on page 7 of this document.

The Target Zero and FDOT logos can be included as footer elements.

TARGET ZERO LOGO - PLACEMENT

If additional logos are featured with the FDOT and Target Zero logos, the order will go as follows: FDOT, Target Zero, programs funded by FDOT in alphabetical order, then other partner program logos in alphabetical order.

Horizontal Scenario (preferred)

Order shown: FDOT, Target Zero, FDOT funded, partner logo

Note: If the FDOT logo is already featured inside your primary coalition/program logo, it is acceptable to replace the leading FDOT logo with the program/coalition logo.

What is co-branding?

Co-branding is a partnership where two initiatives or brands share their brand names, logos, etc., on one product such as campaign materials.

Vertical Format

If the space provided dictates placing the logos vertically, the FDOT logo is placed on top of the Target Zero logo, then follow the same order as the horizontal scenario.

Vertical Scenario

Example of usage

Note: Although Futura is the dominant font in the Target Zero logo, Rift and Nunito Sans will be used in the initiative brand. The readability of Futura is not optimal for body copy and other large amounts of text. Both fonts feel more modern and stronger than the roundness of Futura. Both primary fonts are Adobe fonts and are available for download if you have Adobe Creative Cloud.

COLOR PALETTE

This color palette is to be used for all co-branding assets and collateral materials only.

The graphic below shows the color choice hierarchy as it relates to co-branding assets and collateral materials for the Target Zero initiative. When creating future co-brands, the Target Zero initiative color palette will be used as the foundation. As the Target Zero initiative expands and campaigns are created, visuals will be tailored to the target audience while complementing the original Target Zero initiative brand.

ADA COLORS

Use only color combinations shown. Color combinations that are not represented are to be avoided as they do not meet a color contrast ratio of 4.5:1, so they do not conform with the standards of Section 508 for body text. This means some people would have difficulty reading the text. Employing accessibility best practices improves the user experience for all.

EXPANDED COLOR PALETTE

The Target Zero initiative color palette allows for subtle differences to create unique campaigns under the brand. The Logo colors remain unchanged.

Color palettes for programs that fall under the Target Zero initiative were built with flexibility and long range planning in mind. The palettes are identical to the main brand, but contain a unique identifying hue. Adding a complementary color will mitigate the risk of an oversaturation of one color. As the initiative grows, this methodology will offer the opportunity for visual flexibility.

VISUALS - SOCIAL MEDIA

TARGET ZERO INITIATIVE

COLOR PALETTE

The social media color palette for the Target Zero initiative was developed based on industry knowledge of what drives social media views and engagement. This palette combines the primary brand colors with additional brightened colors in order to grab the attention of the initiative's target audience. The addition of these colors also allows for the creation of branded gradients, which add dimension and movement to the brand's look and feel.

GRAPHICS

Social Media Photography Choice

The Target Zero initiative photography style on social media is warm, saturated, and vibrant. Photos should focus on relatable experiences and recognizable locations, while providing a direct tie-in to driving. Photo filter overlays in warm tones (reds, oranges, and yellows) can be used to ensure all imagery has a consistent look and feel.

Target Cropping

The concentric circles forming the brand's target element should be incorporated into imagery in the form of cropped overlays. These provide additional visual interest and can be used to emphasize text.

VISUALS - PHOTOGRAPHY

Safety is our highest priority; photos used in all collateral must exhibit safe driving practices in compliance with Florida law. All photos must show drivers buckled up, bicyclists wearing helmets, and children utilizing the proper safety restraint based upon their age. Images that are used should also show diversity to reflect the initiative's inclusive messaging. Applies to all co-branding efforts.

- Use photos that show diversity in age, race, etc.
- Do not use photos of snow or mountains as they are not authentic to Florida.
- If there are road markings or signs in photos, seek technical assistance to ensure they are the same as Florida roads.
- If budget allows, custom photo shoots are suggested to capture the real essence of Florida driving and environment.

No seatbelt visible.
Even if the person is parked, the seatbelt must be visible.
